Dr. Charles Gieschen

Dr. Charles Gieschen joined the faculty of Concordia Theological Seminary (CTSFW), Fort Wayne, Indiana, in 1996 and now serves as academic dean and professor of Exegetical Theology.

Following his graduation from CTSFW (1984), he studied New Testament and Early Judaism at Princeton Theological Seminary, where he received his Th.M. (1985). He was ordained as a pastor in The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS) in 1985. He served as associate and then senior pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Traverse City, Michigan, from 1985-1996. He received his Ph.D. from the Department of Near Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan (1995). During his doctoral studies, he took a brief sabbatical from the parish and was a student at the University of Oxford (1994).

In addition to his teaching duties at the Seminary, he serves as the associate editor of the Concordia Theological Quarterly and the Archaeological Dig coordinator for Seminary expeditions. He was one of the Seminary faculty representatives on the LCMS Commission on THEOLOGY and Church Relations (2007–2016). He is a member of the Society of Biblical Literature, the International Enoch Seminar and the Chief Academic Officer Society of the Association of Theological Schools.

Confronting Confusion About the End Times

This class will study how Paul addresses confusion about the end times in his letters to the Thessalonians. Topics such as the intermediate state, Antichrist, the return of Christ, the wrath of God, judgment, rapture, resurrection and vocation will be addressed through a study of these two letters that exhibit Paul’s pastoral care for a congregation confused about eschatology.
