

Bibliography of Works by and about Martin Luther and Philipp Melanchthon in the English Language 2013-2018

Robert Smith

The five hundredth anniversary of the Lutheran Reformation generated quite a bit of interest in the study of Martin Luther, his friend and colleague, Philipp Melanchthon and their times. A major portion of the studies made as a result were conducted in the English language. They included translations of the work of Luther, sometimes of works never rendered in English and sometimes fresh versions of well-known works. New biographies were written, in-depth analysis of themes, thought and events produced and reviews of all of these works penned. Essays appeared in a wide range of journals, conference proceedings, anthologies and festschriften. This bibliography was compiled at the request of the editors of Lutherjahrbuch to add to their on-going Lutherbibliographie. It covers the publication years 2013-2017.
